

Environmental Engineering Interview Questions and Answers Pdf

1. For removal of temporary hardness of water

- a. water is flush
- b. water is boiled
- c. alum is added to water
- d. lime is added with water

Ans: C

2. A hard water may contain

- a. calcium carbonate
- b. magnesium bicarbonate
- d. any of the above

Ans: D

3. Which of the following industry will usually have the highest consumption of water for processing?

- a. foundry
- b. steel plant
- c. automobile industry
- d. paper mill

Ans: D

4. The most frequent method of bacterial reproduction is by

- a. cell division
- b. sexual process
- c. budding
- d. colony formation

Ans A

5. Which of the following plant is highly sensitive to mercury vapour?

- a. sunflower
- b. ivy

- c. aloe
- d. cherry

Ans: A

6. Which of the following chemical is least poisonous?

- a. Arsenic
- b. Lead
- c. Sodium
- d. Cyanide

Ans: C

7. The emission of oxides of nitrogen in automobile exhaust will be least when the vehicle is

- a. idling
- b. cruising at low speed
- c. cruising at high speed
- d. accelerating

Ans: A

8. The science of poisons, their effects, antinodes and detection is known as

- a. toxicology
- b. mineralogy
- c. petrology
- d. poisonology

Ans: a

9. Which of the following industry is least polluting?

- a. cement industry
- b. oil refinery
- c. thermal power plants
- d. electronic industry

Ans: D

10. A blue smoke from a diesel engine indicates presence of

- a. nitrous oxide
- b. carbon dioxide
- c. carbon monoxide
- d. unburnt oil

Ans: D

meritnotes.com