

Multimedia Interview Questions and Answers Pdf

Question: 1

What are multimedia simulations?

Multimedia simulations are very effective in explaining difficult concepts and facts. Such media make learning more fun and effective.

Question: 2

How is Multimedia used in corporate communications?

Context-relevant animations, images and charts help in grabbing the viewers' attention and highlighting critical pieces of information in corporate presentations.

Question: 3

How are Multimedia used in Scientific environment?

A scientist can look at the molecular model of a compound and manipulate it.

Question: 4

What are Object-based animations?

Object based animations also referred to as slide or path animations, are created by moving an object across a screen. This type of animations are usually seen in a computer game.

Question: 5

What are the uses of Morphing and Warping?

Most modern multimedia applications, particularly games, combine these techniques with virtual reality to create an environment in which gives the viewer the feeling that he is part of that environment.